Kei te pai au.	Kei te harikoa au.	Kei te ngenge au.
Kei te pōuri au.	Kei te māuiui au.	Kei te pōuri au.
Kei te hōhā au.	Kei te pukuriri au.	Kei te āwangawanga au.
Kei te makariri au.	Kei te hiamo au.	Kei te wera au.

I'm fine.	I'm happy.	I'm tired.
I'm sad.	I'm sick.	I'm disappointed.
I'm frustrated.	I'm angry.	I'm worried.
I'm cold.	I'm excited.	I'm hot.

Ideas for use:

This simple resource can be used in so many ways! Here's just a few, but don't be limited by them!

remember to encourage using te reo Māori and practising the NZSL signs, not just naming them ☺ Using Ngā Reo E Toru is about connection – not just "learning words."

- If you are unsure about how to demonstrate any NZSL sign, PLEASE go to the website for the NZSL Online Dictionary and check the video example; .e.g fine
- Make into a matching game; e.g matching te reo Māori with the NZSL
- Play "go fish" with all the cards
- Print off a double set and play "memory"
- Enlarge and display around the centre/classroom
- Make a display for children to interact with and identify feelings in all three languages
- Colour the pictures in
- Draw their own pictures to match the words in the space provided
- Make a feelings booklet
- Play Charades by using the stack of cards to pull out of a hat and do the NZSL and get the other kids to guess
- Play question and answer games using "kei te pēhea koe?" (how are you?) then answering in NZSL or Te Reo Māori
- If older children show a particular interest in learning more NZSL, here is a fantastic FREE online course http://www.learnnzsl.nz/#/id/co-01
- Interchange between the three languages
- Check out this video of my daughter doing role play with these words - https://www.facebook.com/KiwiSignNZ/videos/2610639045873879/
- If you would like to share more "Ngā Reo E Toru – Our Three Languages" with children, please look at my board books on my website www.kiwisign.nz/shop
